1. Welcome and introductions and approval of minutes from the February meeting.

2. Joint Meeting recap

This year's theme was "Critical Health Sciences: examining our role in social justice" at USF in San Francisco. The great thing was that all posters, papers, and speakers really fit the theme, which was new for many of us. Everybody really liked the plenary speaker, Dr. Odette Harris, who is a neurosurgeon at Stanford and works with the VA on acute management, rehab and reintegration of veterans with many TBIs. There were several sessions in regards to gender equality, use of language, etc. The CE classes were great and free.

Most papers and posters are available on the conference website at:

3. Access Medicine, Ali Shukri

Ali used to work for StatRef and other vendors before coming to McGraw-Hill.

AccessMedicine was created for general hospital needs. They are now creating more specialty products and JAMA Evidence. They have a new collection from FA Davis for allied health, for PT and AT (athlete training).

Create your own account to have more features, e.g. bookmarks, hypotheses.

CME eligible when logged in.

Approx. 150 text books in AccessMedicine. Can export Excel spreadsheet of all books from Library (under tools).

Multimedia: Images and videos can be used for educational purposes. Over 2000 media files.

Now includes Patient Safety Modules.

Print now has a pdf option to print a book chapter.

Quick Reference – point of care: 2 Minute Medicine, can get alerts. Includes: Clinical prep for students, diagnosaurus, diagnostic tests, guideline for inpatient and primary care, QMDT=Quick Medical Diagnosis & Treatment.

Cases: approx.. 200 case files, for medical students & residents. There is also an add-on for 1200 case files and teaching cases. Board review.

Study Tools: Clinical practice and board review, flash cards...

Patient Education, 9th grade reading level

JAMA Evidence, user guide to medical literature.

McGraw-Hill is using Tableau to see what searches are popular in AccessMedicine.

New:

AccessPhysiotherapy, includes study prep tools.

FA Davis PT Collection was added since most PT programs use Davis' books.

Samuel Merritt is currently testing the Dermatology Trainer diagnostic tool.

<https://www.accessusercenter.com/> to find training, promotional materials, etc.

4. Ebsco, Anna Ramsey

New Dynamed will be released in August. It combines classic Dynamed with Dynamed Plus. They added overviews and recommendations in addition to evidence, since the users asked for it. It uses the Amazon webservices platform. There are several add-ons: symptom checker Isabelle, Health Decision, and a drug interaction tool.

Samuel Merritt moved from UpToDate to Dynamed Classic 5 years ago, but because of huge protests they switched back after 18 months.

Stacks is a hosted content management system, that integrates with EDS. Is costs around $5K/year. It easily organizes a website, e.g. Natividad wants to use it.

Anna Ramsey announced that she will be leaving Ebsco on 8/2/19.

5. Docline, LinkOut, LDX changes: need linkresolver to change from LinkOut to OutsideTool, Ebsco's FTF might work.

6. Member news:

Samuel Merritt is adding the Fresno campus for PA.

NEXT MEETING DATE: Friday, October 25, 2019
